

SOCIALIST LEADER GIVES EVIDENCE AT INVESTIGATION

Says He Learned of Corruption
Through an Anonymous Letter.

Berlin, Nov. 5.—Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the socialist leader, was called to the stand yesterday at the trial of Maximalist Brandt and Otto Reusch on the charge of bribing German ordinance officers to obtain secret information for the benefit of the Krupp works. It was the reading by Dr. Liebknecht of the Reichstag of certain "extra letters" of secret reports that brought about the revelations of the Krupp contracts scandal and the government inquiry, as a result of which several officers were sent to prison. Dr. Liebknecht said the reports were sent to him anonymously, and he destroyed the letter accompanying them to prevent the author being traced. He added that at the time he did not know Von Metzow, formerly an employee of the Krupp works who had been suspected of having given him the reports. The socialist leader offered information of the news system of the Krupp works to money contributions to the foreign press, and volunteered to tell how important contracts were being let abroad by the firm. The court ruled against the introduction of this testimony.

Brandt's "own papers," which are said to contain information on German military plans, were read in secret session of the court.

Berkeley, Cal., women's club is disgraced because some members insist on giving a public entertainment and appearing in costumes.

WAS TROUBLED WITH BOILS AND CARBUNCLES.

There is no more frequent source of illness than that arising from bad blood, for when the blood becomes impure, it is only natural that boils, pimples, or some other indication of bad blood should break out on the system.

Boils in themselves are not a dangerous trouble, but still at the same time are very painful, and the only way to get rid of them is to cleanse the blood of the impurities. Cleanse it thoroughly, by the use of Burdock Blood Bitters, that old and reliable blood medicine that has been on the market for nearly forty years.

Mr. James Wilds, Plaster Rock, N.B., writes: "I was greatly troubled, several years ago, with boils and carbuncles, and the doctor told me I was in a bad condition. My appetite failed me, I began to lose strength, and was pretty well run down when one of my friends recommended Burdock Blood Bitters. After using three bottles I began to feel like another man. My troubles soon left me, and to-day I can certainly give Burdock Blood Bitters a high recommendation to my friends."

WHY NOT GOOD SUNDAY MOVIES?

Editor Daily Capital:
Sir,—In starting out I will say for fear of being misunderstood I have not dollar invested in, nor an acquaintance I know of being financially interested in movies. I want to write honestly, but must be brief to the point.

I think I was the only person present at the Dr. Shreer Presbyterian ministerial meeting two weeks ago besides the ten or twelve ministers. I had never attended a ministerial meeting, and went, understanding it was open for any who might be interested, especially their own members.

I now speak out on account of some things. I found they were much interested in taking some matters up with the attorney-general while the legislature was in session.

Good, that their privilege. Those present seemed very much in favor of pictures as a means for good, especially Dr. Shreer. One minister present had a lantern slide outfit of his own.

Dr. Shreer said the denomination will furnish a supply as soon as finance will allow, to be handled like a circulating library. There was no mention of trying to arrange to get pictures and allow the good movie pictures to continue Sunday. Oh, no! Why not allow a similar good class of pictures to be shown by movies as this denomination is going to circulate?

To read between the lines, I am satisfied one or more denomination already have an eye towards the pictures as a means of pictures on Sundays.

For me, I sincerely hope our denomination and city officials will arrange to allow properly any responsible party or parties to show good pictures, and allow the good movie pictures to continue Sunday. Oh, no! Why not allow a similar good class of pictures to be shown by movies as this denomination is going to circulate?

What is the difference between a picture and a descriptive word picture from the pulpit? The former is the quicker to comprehend, and often plainer.

W. ROGERS,

WARRANTS ISSUED FOR NINE THOUSAND PERSONS

Preparations Made to Prevent Possibility of Illegal Voters from Casting Ballots.

New York, Nov. 5.—Nine thousand persons are named in warrants issued today for their arrest if they try to vote at today's election. The preparation of the warrants followed a recent decision by Supreme Court Justice Caveau, who held that a voter can register only from the place where he actually resides.

Under this decision the Honest Ballot association and the voters league compiled a list of names of persons they charge with illegal registration. The warrants will be turned over to the police and distributed tomorrow along the different polling places.

Aching Lumbago Backs Are Quickly Helped and Permanently Cured

Release, Yes, and a Cure for Lumbago is Now Known

YOU CAN EASILY PROVE THIS.

To cure Lumbago—surely it's a good thing to know how! This information must to Jno. E. Neave the difference between invalidism and robust health. Writing from his home near Charvillat, he says: "A severe and prolonged attack of Lumbago in my youth rendered me at all times liable to aches in the back and joints. So established became the predisposition, and so frequent the attacks, I confess I accepted the condition as my particular weakness to be borne with as much composure as any evil circumstance might permit. One day an unusually bad attack assailed me and unfortunately there was no medicine of any kind in the house. I sent to a neighbor for help and received with a strong recommendation a bottle of Nerviline. My friend was surprised we didn't use Nerviline, saying that they found use for it in their family almost every day. So quickly did Nerviline check the attack, and so grateful was the relief, that I was in a day on the high road to recovery. I have cured my tendency to Lumbago with Nerviline, and consider it the most powerful pain-solvent I have ever made."

For curing colds, hoarseness, tight chest and winter ailments, Nerviline is a marvel; as for Lumbago, Sciatica, and Rheumatism, Nerviline is considered to be without a peer. In the point of a few minutes, it is valuable. It cures cramps in half a minute, stops nausea, controls vomiting and upset stomachs, for internal or external use, wherever there is pain, apply Nerviline. Get the free, family size bottle, trial size 2c. at all stockholders or write to The Catorhorne Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

NEW DEAN IN POLITICAL WORK

Moving Pictures of Candidates to Be Thrown on Canvas During Meetings.

London, Nov. 5.—It is stated that a large moving picture film has been prepared one of the most popular of the cabinet ministers. The picture is picture rights for exhibition at political meetings.

It is noteworthy that a great meeting to protest against the imprisonment of Jim Larkin the Dublin strike leader, on Saturday night, the audience of more than 10,000 was raised to fever heat by pictures of the Dublin labor leader being thrown onto the screen at intervals between the speeches.

It is believed that liberal meetings would be greatly attracted by pictures of Mr. Lloyd George pursuing his duties as chancellor of the exchequer speaking from the public platform, golfing, etc.

The idea is capable of indefinite extension and seems like the addition of a new and potent aid to politics.

FRENCH CANADIAN REGIMENT

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—A deputation from Hull, called on the Hon. Sam Hughes today for the formation of a French Canadian regiment in that city. The minister of militia assured them that the new regiment which has already been organized with a strength of 400 would be officially recognized at once. He incidentally reminded the deputation that from his grandmother he himself had French blood in his veins. Further intimation was given that if the regiment got on well, a drill hall would be provided by the government.

PRINCIPAL MCKAY TALKED OF FOR INSPECTORSHIP

Dr. Crang Favors Appointment of Head of Strathcona High School.

First in his opinion that home products should be encouraged and the importation of outsiders dispensed with when possible. Dr. Crang, of the Edmonton school board, stated to the press last night that he would give notice of motion for the appointment of G. A. McKay, principal of Strathcona High school, as superintendent of city schools, the post lately vacated by the retirement of Mr. James McGee. This is not the first time that Mr. McKay's name has been prominently before the public in this same matter. Last February he was nominated for the same position and it was only after a long, continued and strenuous campaign that he was forced to retire in favor of Mr. McGee. Mr. McKay is peculiarly well fitted for the post as he has already had considerable experience as a superintendent of schools, having been superintendent of Public schools in the old city of Strathcona. The new position is in full swing today with General Booth in command of all activities. At present McKay is in the city, but he is likely to be in the city for a long time, as he is one of the big plums in the educational pie.

Other names of men prominent in the educational life of Edmonton have been mentioned in connection with the appointment, more especially the names of John Ross, chief inspector of schools; James A. Lee, school inspector; and W. G. Carpenter, principal of Victoria High school.

Dr. Crang is in the city, but he is likely to be in the city for a long time, as he is one of the big plums in the educational pie.

WILL TAMMANY SURVIVE THE AVALANCHE?

With its mayoralty candidate snowed under by an avalanche of 125,000 and with only two of the sixteen voters on the board of estimate, Tammany has suffered the worst defeat since Boss Tweed passed out. To make the rout of the tiger complete, Tammany not only loses almost every office in its stronghold of Manhattan and all control of the city's tremendous expenditure, but through the election of Whitman and his whole supporting coterie, loses all chance of being able to "put something over" with the police. Tammany is certainly defeated.

Now the question will be asked, as it has been asked before, can Tammany come back? Heretofore the answer, of the anti-Tammany reformers, who imagined the defeat of Tammany in some way constituted a regeneration of New York society, has always been, upon the occasion of each previous defeat, that the machine was smashed and the tiger dead. Then they went to sleep, and the tiger crept back upon the sleeping city and captured it again.

But this time the circumstances are just a trifle different from any previously existing. The world has discovered the mainspring of Tammany's power—the power to select candidates. Sulzer must have seen it very clearly when, with a quarrel impending, he sought to pass a direct primary law, and the experience of other cities where the nominating power has been taken out of the hands of the political organizations has undoubtedly educated every anti-Tammany man in New York upon the effectiveness of this specific.

Direct primaries, selective election, preferential voting, the recall have all come into use since Tammany last found itself on the outside looking in. That these will be taken into force in New York without delay may be taken for granted. Can Tammany or any other political organization triumph over these more modern weapons?

The probabilities are that the answer is "yes." But the Tammany which will sooner or later achieve the triumph will not be the Tammany as it is known today, but a new Tammany, with new aspirations and new ideals.

Tammany, for years the greatest political organization in the world, has been at the same time the most humane and infinitely institution in the alleged democracy to the south, as necessarily, it must have been to accomplish the things it did. Tammany was never impersonal. It reached right down into the daily lives of millions, rich and poor, and touched their sentiments and consciousness as even their religion had failed to do. To the half-million paupers and the hundreds of thousands of near-paupers who felt that in the social arrangement they had somehow been given the worst of it, the Tammany standard seemed to be a rallying point, and they delegated to its chieftains whatever power lay in their hands. To the predatory high-ups it was Tammany's control over these, more than anything else, that made the machine indispensable. With these votes ready for delivery upon election day, it needed only the nominating power to keep the greatest city in United States in the hands of the exploiters.

Direct primaries will take the nominating power out of the hands of the organization heads and place it directly in the hands of the electors themselves. The recall will make it impossible for elected officials to ignore their responsibilities. The human desire to take part in the framing of public affairs will be lessened but accelerated by these inventions of modern democracy. The Tammany which will be able to use them will necessarily be more directly representative. When next it comes back into power it will be with a new responsibility, to which, through its very humanness and the intimacy of its relations with the great mass of those most needing a better social arrangement, Tammany will be more susceptible than any of the coldly impersonal or distinctively high-brow forces for political reform could possibly hope to be.

In all probability the Sulzer-Murphy episode, culminating in the overwhelming defeat of Tuesday, marks the beginning of the end for the present Tammany; but Tammany as an institution will survive because, behind the institution, Tammany is an expression, and the more completely democratic the machinery of government the more scope will be given the expression.

ONTARIO'S EXHIBITION OF NIGARDLINESS

A circumstance which illustrates the different attitudes of the Ontario and the Alberta governments toward municipalities has just transpired in the older province in the form of an order from the Whitney government to the effect that hereafter feeble-minded persons in Ontario shall be cared for in the county houses of refuge.

The house of refuge in Ontario is an institution maintained at the expense of the province for the purpose of caring for those who have reached old age in poverty and who are thrown upon the tender mercy of the country in which they live. The Ontario government requires that the counties provide for their indigent, and many sordid squabbles between counties have arisen over attempts by one county to shirk responsibility and load it onto a neighboring county. To add to this, the provincial government of Ontario now repudiates the responsibility of the province for its feeble-minded and loads this onto the municipalities as well.

The necessity for houses of refuge has not yet arisen in Alberta, and therefore there is no basis for a comparison in this respect. But the province of Alberta has never been so niggardly as to attempt to load the responsibility for caring for the feeble-minded upon the municipalities as Ontario does.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

Birthday congratulations are due today to the world's most distinguished son-in-law, Nicholas Longworth, who passes his 44th birthday. Mr. Longworth is a millionaire, a lawyer, an ex-congressman and a poet, but he is chiefly famous as the husband of Clara, nee Roosevelt. Mr. Longworth was defeated for re-election to who led in the race by the mere margin of 50 votes. Mr. Longworth once delivered a poetic eulogy on "patriotism" before Congress, but in the congressional campaign he was defeated, the plain reason being that he was a Republican. The political enemy sought to discredit Col. Roosevelt's son-in-law by alleging that he wore a fine pair of pants every day, and the report got abroad that Roosevelt, his rival, possessed only one pair of leg-coverings. Mr. Longworth was too free indulgent his spirited denials of the latter imputation, and it has since developed that Congressman Howells has plenty of pants. Mr. Longworth's touching tribute to patriotism, as embodied in the Congressional record, was as follows:

"You may live without poetry, music or art; you may live without conscience, you may live without heart; you may live without brain, you may live without pants."

As a fair young thing would remark in a marginal note, "How true!" Eugene V. Rieu, perpetual candidate for the Presidency of the United States on the socialist ticket, was born in Terre Haute, Ind., 28 years ago today. Four times he has been the standard bearer of the red flag party of the United States, and, while he has been consistently and persistently defeated, he has received a constantly increasing vote. Mr. Rieu is now engaged in running for the presidency in 1916 and 1918. He has been a locomotive fireman, a grocery clerk, city clerk, free lance writer, a member of the Indiana legislature, and president of the American Railway Union. While managing the railway strike in 1904, he was sent to jail for contempt of court, and it was while he was behind bars that he began to study socialism and became a convert to it. Not long ago the perpetual candidate and his charming and intellectual wife shocked Terre Haute society by taking a woman from the street into their home. It has since been alleged that the woman has fully reformed.

Miss Ma Minerva Tarbell, who wrote "The History of the Standard Oil Company," is a native of Erie county, Pa., and makes no secret of the fact that she will pass her 36th birthday today. Her father was one of the pioneers in the development of the Pennsylvania oil fields. The famous woman journalist declares that she feels no need of suffrage for herself, such as expressed doubts as to whether it would be of any real value to the masses of women. The chief argument against woman suffrage, she declares, is that women do not take advantage of the opportunities for advancement already within their grasp. She is a stern critic of heresies in the matter of feminine attire, which she says is in bad taste and extravagant.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

This is Guy Fawkes Day. In England, the anniversary of the discovery of the plot of Guy Fawkes and his fellow conspirators to blow up the Houses of Parliament is celebrated by burning effigies of the traitors in one grand explosion by setting off a gunpowder mine under Parliament House, November 5, 1913. The day is a national holiday in England, and the great annual festival of English youngsters, Guy Fawkes Day, is to be celebrated in London, and only a few days to the time-honored custom of lighting bonfires on Guy Fawkes night and raising "Guy." The latter is a cake made of straw, molasses, ginger, and for centuries the reputation has been inseparably connected with the fifth of November festival.

In threatening to blow up public buildings the English militant suffragists have but followed the example of Guy Fawkes and the others implicated in the gunpowder plot. If the "wreckers" were to seriously undertake the job, however, it is not probable that their destruction of property would have serious results, but that the plot of the 17th century conspirators would have been averted, and the finesse of the bash-baronies of the civil service.

Religious antipathies such as now threaten to result behind a sea of fire were responsible for the Guy Fawkes plot. The laws of Elizabeth, in relation to human Catholics, had been characterized by the justice and equity. With the coming of James I. to the throne, the interests of Rome expected an amelioration of their condition, and they were disappointed. The laws against them were enforced with even greater vigor. In retaliation, Robert Catesby, Guy Fawkes and other Catholics hatched the gunpowder plot. 36 barrels of the explosive were loaded in a vault under Parliament House, to which access was had by digging a tunnel through a stone wall nine feet thick. The king was to convene Parliament on the fifth of November, when Guy Fawkes was to fire the powder and send monarch and lawmakers to destruction. Instead of a small number sent to one of the Catholic jails resulted in the discovery of the conspiracy before it could be put into effect. Guy Fawkes was put to the torture, but refused to confess or give the names of his fellow plotters, and with his lips still sealed he was sent to the scaffold. Several other prominent Catholics were also executed. By an act of Parliament the fifth of November was proclaimed a day of thanksgiving "forever."

DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS

The fact that Doan's Kidney Pills are the original Kidney Pills has not prevented the placing of other preparations in pill form upon the market under the name Kidney Pills. It is necessary, therefore, that all wishing to secure the curative effects which have made Doan's Kidney Pills so popular everywhere, should see that the trade mark, the Maple Leaf, appears on the wrapper. Without this trade mark, you are not getting the genuine Kidney Pills as originally placed before the people by Mr. James Doan, as shown by the following declaration:

"I, James Doan, of Kingsville, in the County of Essex, brought do solemnly declare that Doan's Kidney Pills were first manufactured and sold by me on the 14th day of February, A.D. 1885. And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and knowing it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of 'The Canada Evidence Act 1893.'" against the current on the return trip. After a two-hour delay the party finally waved goodbye to Alhambra, and started at 2:30 o'clock on the long trip. Aldermen Driscoll and May only travelled as far as Alhambra when they decided to return home, leaving Aldermen Smith, Calder, Livingstone, Walsh and Lord to complete the trip. The current of the Athabasca, aided by the efforts of the half breeds, taking turns at the oars, carried the party along at a fairly good speed, the wind being favorable.

ALDERMEN ARE ENLIGHTENED AT PELICAN ON GAS

Captain Williams decided toward nightfall that as the dangerous waters were a long distance down the river, he would befall the passengers if the journey were continued all night. This being agreeable, a man was stationed at the helm and the beds were spread on the deck of the vessel. At intervals during the night, Aldermen Smith was heard to exclaim, "We're on the rocks, but soon all is righted and in the 'cold gray dawn of the early morning' (in phrases often heard during the trip) the captain announced that Captain Hoyer had been passed in the night.

All day Monday morning the half breeds and indeed some of the passengers took their turn at the oars to make time against a head wind. Several stops were made and a number of the party walked for some distance along the shore to warm up as the weather grew colder.

Lake Portage was reached Sunday evening and as the trip could be easily completed on Monday the ship was put to shore on the west bank and a number of the passengers took their turn at the oars to make time against a head wind. Several stops were made and a number of the party walked for some distance along the shore to warm up as the weather grew colder.

The first real hardship of the journey was met Monday morning, the first fast time. The commissary department, in charge of a first class chef, H. A. La Prairie, better known as "Tony," was frozen stiff. The cook stove, located a little forward of amidships, refused to "green" the water, and as a last resort the old Italian method of distilling the water on a pole across a camp fire was called into play. But this was not the only hardship, as a lively scramble followed in an effort to locate the dishes and supplies necessary for the breakfast.

While everything necessary had been provided by manager Williams for the party, the commissary department, in charge of a first class chef, H. A. La Prairie, better known as "Tony," was frozen stiff. The cook stove, located a little forward of amidships, refused to "green" the water, and as a last resort the old Italian method of distilling the water on a pole across a camp fire was called into play. But this was not the only hardship, as a lively scramble followed in an effort to locate the dishes and supplies necessary for the breakfast.

The trip on Monday was rather uneventful, and the Pelican No. 3 well was reached before dark. It is located six miles south of the camp. The presence of numbers of ducks along the river made targets at which the aldermen practiced the shooting. The ducks always kept far enough away to save their feathers from the shower of shot and bullets that speeded after them.

The party landed at the No. 3 well and after about the development of the gas field at this point. This well has been drilled to a depth of 572 feet and showed a pressure on the gauge of 25 pounds. The aldermen were treated to their first real surprise in the morning when Manager Williams gave the order to "flow off the heat."

The two-inch pipe was then opened up with a deflating rod the gas was forced into the clouds. As the pressure of gas that a part of the superstructure was blowing down. After the entire well had been exhausted and the well was flowing under ordinary pressure, the valve was closed and in less than two minutes the gauge showed that the pressure was up to 250 pounds. Before opening up the valve, the men in charge were observed putting something in their ears, this latter was due to the fact that the noise was so loud that the aldermen were nearly deafened by the sound. The aldermen had a busy rest with a hand on each ear as the enormous pressure of gas burst forth from this well.

Having secured the necessary information at this well, the party again embarked for the last six mile journey down to the camp which were reached before dark.

The second big surprise in store for the party was experienced when the first bend in the river was reached and the old government camp was being shot at a flame high in the air. As the landing was approached the roar of this burning gas resembled very much Niagara Falls.

The party being somewhat weary after the three day journey in store for the party was experienced when the first bend in the river was reached and the old government camp was being shot at a flame high in the air. leaving to the Landing. About 10 o'clock Wednesday morning everything was in readiness for the start. The half breeds were lined up with sufficient bread, beans, bacon, tea, and a few dishes to serve for the journey. While this readiness had been secured, the aldermen had been provided on the journey to the gas fields, these also must be left behind and only a light canvas and a blanket for each member of the party could be packed back. There was still more in the collection of necessities that could be handled by the half breeds and the husky camp dogs were pressed into service. On one dog was loaded a barrel of coal oil and on the other several other requisites for the journey.

Around the camp, fire Wednesday night many interesting stories were told. The first day's trip to Poplar Island was made with ease, but next morning a number of the party were so stiffened up by the extra exertion on their muscles that they could scarcely travel around.

Aldermen Smith told a very touching little bit of his experience of the first day, when in company with one of the pack dogs he was crossing a log on the bank which lay some two feet from the ground. After crossing the dog, the pack dog was about to jump, but the heavy load could not get over the log nor under it. He looked up at the doctor with a pitiful look, begging assistance, which was soon forthcoming, the doctor grabbing up the pack, lifting it over his head and carrying it over the log. That dog seemed to remember that incident all the rest of the journey, said the doctor, and seemed to get near me on the trail."

Aldermen Livingstone provided most amusement for the crowd that day for one member of the party. He was in all on several occasions, but as he shuddered, peculiar to the sons of the leather, he came through all the hardships and was in good spirits Monday evening when the second day's journey was about to start. When the teams were waiting to carry the explorers to their destination, the pack dogs were put to work.

Aldermen Walsh led the way most of the time for the first few days. He had a steady gait, and one that could easily be imitated by his colleagues. The pack dogs were in good luck, for it was there with his power for the command that he provided every day impossible to get back by water he made the very best possible arrangement for the journey. He was at the end of the journey all were agreed that he had done exceedingly well. SOCIAL AND PERSONAL MILADY FASHIONS AND FANCIES

THE GAY WORLD.

WEDDING.

The marriage of Mr. John Canby Landry, son of Judge Landry of Halifax, to Miss Marjorie Clair Dick, second daughter of Mr. Justice Dick of Edmonton, took place this morning at 11:30 at St. Joachim's church. Father Canby performed the ceremony. The altar was beautifully decorated with flowers and palms. The pews for the wedding guests were divided by broad white ribbons. The wedding march was played by Mr. E. G. Peppin who presided at the organ during the ceremony. The bride wore a charming picture in her exquisite gown of white champagne satin, long pointed train, the skirt draped over a petticoat of Spanish lace. The drapery caught with pearl ornaments. The bodice draped with the same filmy lace. The gloves, fastened at the back with a large bow, centered with a pearl buckle. The long tulle veil was caught with the white ribbons of the gown. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley and wore a diamond and sapphire pin, the groom's gift.

Mrs. James Taylor was the matron of honor. She wore an adorable gown of gold and champagne. The bridesmaids were: Miss Emily Watson and Miss Emily Down. Miss Watson's gown was pale blue satin with a tulle of white acconceded trim, net outlined with blue. Miss Down wore a lovely frock of cream champagne. The matron of honor and the bridesmaids all wore black picture hats and carried flowers. The groom's gift to the bride was a gold bracelet. The altar was decorated with flowers and palms. Cabnet Tells Margaret Anglin He Sees Enough of Human Nature.

Margaret Anglin, who is announced as the attraction at the Empire Theatre on Tuesday afternoon. The hostess was very becomingly gowned in a dress of white net over white silk and lace, with touches of black velvet. Receiving with her was Mrs. (Rev.) Dr. W. L. Armstrong, who wore wisteria silk. Mrs. Hart was assisted in the drawing-room by Mrs. W. J. Macraeth, Mrs. P. E. Butchart, Mrs. R. C. Chown and Miss Yeomans. An abundance of lovely pink roses enhanced the beauty of the tea table, and contrasted charmingly with the rich cream and brown tints of the dining room. Mesdames R. H. Chadwick, Riddell Cushing, Henry W. J. Horner and Canfield presided in the tea room, while Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Chio Jackson, Miss Marion Seymour, Miss Blatrick, Miss J. J. Patchett and the hostess' pretty daughter, looking very sweet in pink liberty and marabout, were making in their efforts to contribute to the pleasure of some 200 guests and extend true Highland hospitality.

WHITTINGTON AND HIS CAT

Elaborate, Expensive, Thrilling, Spectacular, Authentic and Noteworthy.

The moving picture world in commenting on the picture "Dick Whittington and His Cat" to be shown at the Bijou today and tomorrow, said: "Elaborate, expensive, thrilling, spectacular. Authentic and noteworthy." The New York Times said the following on the same production: "As we look at the massive English masonry used in many of the sets, the old English architecture, the every detail, the costumes of the actors and actresses, the wonderful light effects that had much to do with the life of the picture and the entire excellence of photography we realized that here was the work of an artist."

The Dramatic Mirror said: "A timely production in this day of censorship. It is as good and, in a measure, better than some of the child plays on Broadway."

The flitting of such stories as "Dick Whittington and His Cat" is the best of people and appeals to the cleanest and healthiest taste. The kaleidoscopic procession of clean melodrama and tiresome "Westerns" cannot be interrupted too often by such pictures as these. The picture is a distinct gain to the reputation of the industry and a matter of just pride to the Maple Leaf Feature Film company, which controls the production for Canada.

Today George Hammond will sing two new songs in his production of the refined musical. Mr. Hammond is duplicating his former successes at the Bijou theatre.

"THE BONDSMAN" AT THE EMPRESS SHOW TWO DAYS

Today and Tomorrow This Feature Film Will Be Shown—Miss Hill Will Sing.

"The Bondsman" will be the feature film at the Empress today and tomorrow. This film is being supplied by the Domino Film company and is the first being presented in Edmonton by their camera men. Of late the Domino people have turned out some wonderful productions but none of them could be thrilling and gripping scenes that this one does. It is a powerful piece of work and intensely interesting all the way through.

Miss Claire Hill, the famous singer from Toronto, has arranged to sing a number of new songs to-morrow. Since her engagement Monday night she has made decided hits with the large audiences.

ANOTHER EXCELLENT BILL AT THE ROYAL THEATRE

Inauguration of the New Service Proves to Be a Great Success.

The new first run service at the Namayo avenue picture house is proving extremely popular. This service commenced on Monday with "Shipwrecked," a Kalum masterpiece, which was received enthusiastically by a large audience.

Today's program promises to be even better, the feature being a three-reel special "Path" film entitled "The Springtime of Life." Although the title suggests a picture of green fields, lovers wandering in shady lanes and such like scenes, it is in reality an entirely different story. The story centres around the struggles and life of a famous opera singer, a duel is fought on her behalf, and a strong scene occurs when she is rescued from a horrible theatre fire.

The most reliable information regarding this film is the criticism of the Moving Picture World, which follows: "This three-part picture is notable not only for its good story line settings, and excellent acting, but for the quality of its photography and its light effects. The latter factor is of so pronounced a value that it will be noticed by those who usually give little heed to anything but the story and its working out."

In this to this splendid feature, one of the world famous Viennese comedies is being shown, which features Kora Finch and the intimate John Bunny. It is entitled "The Autocrat of Flatjack Junction."

Max A. Nolis has been arrested in New York by request of his brother, who wants to stop his wild career of spending money foolishly.

Madame Napol Laliberte has received the sad news of the death of her youngest sister, Madame Laliberte, nee Evelyn Halvill, wife of Mr. Albert Laliberte, engineer for the city of Hull, Quebec. The death occurred last week at Montreal. Madame Laliberte was only 23 years of age and leaves a husband and two children.

MANY RECORDS SMASHED BY THE VARSITY BOYS AT FIELD DAY MEET YESTERDAY

Number Last Year Records Considerably Lowered—Almost Entire Foot Cut From 1912 Broad Jump—Half-Mile Time Lowered 7 2-5 Seconds.

The University sports meet held upon the south side exhibition grounds yesterday afternoon, though not well attended, were marked by so many well completed events that the event is one of record.

A number of records were broken. Sheppard, of Edmonton, with a reputation as a record-breaker, was again very much in the front, being first in six events, and second in one, capturing the all-round championship. The 16 class took the class championship.

The records as compared with last year are:

$100=REWARD=$100

To anyone who can show us where any of the Alberta Townsites selling at $200 to $4,000 per lot can show any more actual value than lots in the original townsite of UNCAS, which you can buy for 10 days only at $25 each. They say a sucker is born every minute. It must be worse than that when there are people right here in Edmonton who pay such enormous prices, when they can get better value at only $25, and easy terms at that. There are only a limited number of lots to be had at $25. And as soon as these are disposed of you will be unable to get another at this price, and by January 1st you will be glad of the chance to buy a lot in Uncas at $100.

WHY? LISTEN!!

We are putting in a large, modern gas drilling outfit and have let the contract for a 16-inch hole. We will go to any depth necessary to tap the gas that we know is in this locality. We pledge ourselves to spend more than $15,000 for development work. We need $2,500 more money at once, and will sell a few lots to raise this amount.

A Few Indisputable Facts

At UNCAS we have a $2500.00 Depot with living rooms, also 80 car siding capacity.

This is an established location and is being used as a permanent siding.

Shall be pleased to answer any further inquiry you may wish to make.

In regard to drilling a Gas Well on Section 22, Tp. 52, R. 21, W. 4th Meridian, would say that you have chosen as desirable a location as there is in the Edmonton district, and think there is no doubt whatever as to the presence of gas in that locality, there being gas struck in every direction from UNCAS. After a careful study of this field, would judge that you are safe in your investment.

If gas in marketable quantities should be discovered close to the City it would undoubtedly prove a bonanza to the City of Edmonton.
